KINGDOM BUILDERS
SERVING THE KING,
EXPANDING THE KINGDOM.

What is Kingdom Builders?

Since its launch in 2019, CityHope's annual giving initiative, Kingdom Builders, has been a bold response to God's call to increase our impact.

It is more than a list of goals or projects—it is a divine movement of generosity that expands the reach of the Gospel and builds the Kingdom of God across the world. Every year, Kingdom Builders invites us to be part of something bigger than ourselves, leaving an eternal imprint that outlasts this lifetime.

Being a Kingdom Builder is about more than giving—it's about partnering with Heaven. Every gift, no matter the size, becomes a tool in God's hands to equip leaders, meet critical needs, and share the hope of Jesus. It's outrageous generosity in action—a tangible expression of faith that turns ordinary moments into extraordinary impact.

At its heart, Kingdom Builders is about advancing the Kingdom and investing in eternity. It calls us to look beyond ourselves, give boldly, and build a legacy that will echo for generations. When we join together in this movement, the impossible becomes possible—and Heaven touches Earth.

GIVE.
SUPPORT.
ADVANCE.
TOGETHER.

BE A
KINGDOM
BUILDER.

GLOBAL

Kingdom Builders is all about advancing God's Kingdom, here at home and around the world.

Through your generosity, we're building churches, homes, and schools; drilling water wells; and investing in the training and equipping of local pastors to ensure lasting spiritual growth in every community we serve.

We're honored to partner with trusted, Kingdom-minded ministries across the globe. Together, we're making an impact that reaches far beyond what any of us could accomplish on our own. Every act of generosity moves the mission forward and fulfills the call of Acts 1:8:

"But you will receive power when the Holy Spirit comes upon you. And you will be my witnesses, telling people about me everywhere—in Jerusalem, throughout Judea, in Samaria, and to the ends of the earth."

Financial Goal: $314,000

MISSIONS

Good News Church / Uganda

Through a powerful partnership with Pastor Solomon and Good News Church in Uganda, Kingdom Builders is helping feed families struggling with hunger in local communities and refugee settlements. But the impact doesn't stop at food! This ministry brings hope, love, and the life-changing message of Jesus to hungry hearts, reminding people that they are not forgotten.

Build Churches / India Gospel League

Even in the face of rising persecution in India, countless hearts are turning to the Lord as people continue gathering courageously in home churches to seek His presence and fellowship. This project steps in to support these faithful communities, providing multi-purpose church buildings where congregations that have outgrown their homes can meet, worship, and grow together in a safe space.

Christ Faith Home for Children in India

Christ Faith Home for Children in India lives out the truth of James 1:27 by caring for orphans and widows in their deepest need. Through life-changing programs, they provide safe homes, nourishing meals, medical care, education, and essential life skills to India's most vulnerable, including orphans, widows, and lepers. Every day, this ministry embodies the heart of compassion, bringing hope, dignity, and a tangible touch of God's love to those who need it most.

San Pedro Sula Dream Center

In San Pedro Sula, Honduras, the Dream Center is a beacon of hope for at-risk children and youth. Every day, it provides a warm meal and a safe, nurturing space where young hearts can grow, form lasting friendships, and experience the love of God in a Christian community. Beyond supporting children, the Dream Center brings hope to the entire community by reaching out to vulnerable families and the elderly, offering guidance, encouragement, and practical help that meets their physical, emotional, and spiritual needs.

Honduras Jungle Hospital

Since 2007, the Jungle Hospital has stood as a lighthouse of healing and hope throughout the Honduran jungle. Led by Dr. Martin and Wendy Williams, this ministry brings life-changing medical and dental care to remote communities. Their work goes beyond the clinic walls, teaching nutrition and hygiene in local schools and nurturing healthier futures for generations to come.

Water for Nations in Kenya

In rural Kenya, families often rely on water sources shared with animals, risking serious illness just to meet their basic needs. Led by Mike and Tammy McRae, Water for Nations is bringing change—drilling wells that provide clean, safe water and sharing the “water of life” with every community they serve. With water close to home, children trade long treks for time in school, families spend more time together, and communities gain new opportunities for agriculture and small businesses. Each well doesn’t just quench thirst—it transforms health, daily life, and the future of entire villages.

Goal: $30,000

Strategic Urgent Partner Requests

Through this project, Kingdom Builders steps in where it's needed most by supporting urgent needs, special projects, and bold initiatives led by our ministry and mission partners, both near and far. It's a lifeline that empowers local communities and global missions to flourish and make a lasting impact.

Konbit Haiti

Since 2010, Konbit Haiti—meaning "coming together for a common good"—has been transforming rural Haitian communities by working hand-in-hand with local leaders. Their focus goes beyond clean water and sanitation; they invest in the whole family, offering school supplies, nutritious meals, summer camps, holiday programs, emergency assistance, and health education. With the support of Kingdom Builders, Konbit Haiti helps communities not just survive, but thrive—creating hope, opportunity, and lasting change across Haiti.

Send100

The “Send100 Residency” is a bold and immersive journey to send 100 missionaries into the world by 2040! Designed for individuals and families called to serve globally for six months or more, this residency equips participants with the training, mentorship, and resources needed to step confidently into their mission.

It’s more than preparation—it’s a transformational experience. From discerning God’s call, connecting with sending organizations, navigating fundraising and preparing for life overseas, to ongoing spiritual guidance and support, our experienced mentors walk alongside every participant. The Send100 Residency empowers missionaries to make a lasting impact in communities around the globe while growing deeper in faith, purpose, and courage every step of the way.

Ministry To Israel

After 2,000 years of dispersion, Jewish families are returning to Israel, coming home to the Promised Land. Many face challenges like a new language, a new culture, and opposition from surrounding nations. This ministry provides vital support to help them settle and thrive. By partnering financially, believers can join God's prophetic plan, blessing His chosen people as they come home.

Emerge Missions

For over 35 years, Emerge Missions has been dedicated to helping young people in Southeast Asia break free from cycles of generational poverty and exploitation. Youth are organized into supportive groups that provide a safe and nurturing environment where they receive spiritual guidance, protection, essential life skills, and education. By equipping local leaders to become champions within their communities, Emerge Missions empowers children with the tools they need to rise above challenging circumstances and build a brighter future.

Monthly Mission Partners

This fund is essential for keeping our ministry partners thriving each month. It allows us to stand alongside missionaries both near and far, supporting their daily work and helping them serve faithfully—whether across the globe or right here in Mobile and Baldwin Counties. Every contribution ensures they have the resources they need to impact lives and advance God's mission.

Goal: $162,000

CityHope Honduras Expansion

CityHope Honduras is entering a new and exciting season of growth. The ministry is relocating and expanding its facilities to create more space for outreach, discipleship, and community impact. This strategic move is being made in partnership with Hope School, allowing both ministries to work together more closely. The expansion will open new doors for education, ministry, and life transformation in the region.

LOCAL OUTREACH

At CityHope, we believe in being faithful stewards of everything God has entrusted to us—including our families, neighborhoods, schools, and workplaces.

Part of that calling is to plant new churches and meet local needs through meaningful outreach. Because of Kingdom Builders, we were recently able to break ground on our future Mobile campus—a huge step toward expanding our ability to serve people in our surrounding communities and bringing this vision to life.

When we come together as the Church, our spheres of influence unite and grow, multiplying the reach of Christ's love to those around us. With Jesus as the head, the Church becomes the vessel through which His impact continues to spread.

This is what we call our "Jerusalem" focus from Acts 1:8, our commitment to serving and investing in local communities and ministry partners right here at home.

Financial Goal: $1,025,000

Goal: $750,000

CITY HOPE CHURCH

We asked Robby & Keegan McWhorter to talk about their personal connection to CityHope, to share their hearts for the Mobile campus, & to explain what having a permanent building for the Mobile campus means to them.

Here's what they had to say.

"Our time at CityHope has really run parallel with our marriage since April 2009. We've been loyal to CityHope because it felt like such a gift to us. We both got emotional when we sat down to think about it, because this church & the pastors - especially Pastor Trey - have truly been staples, even anchors, throughout our entire marriage. We had both experienced unhealthy leadership at previous churches as teens, & we wanted to start fresh at a new church as a newly married couple. I (Keegan) will never forget that very first Sunday we attended. I just stood there in the middle of a crowd of people I didn't know, & I could not keep the tears in. I sobbed because I was overwhelmed by how healthy God's presence felt. It's impossible to describe, but after that service, we both were stunned & thought, "This is what a healthy church feels like." The word we use over and over again when describing our church to others is "HEALTHY!" We appreciate that so much.

When we look back on every up & down, every good & bad season, CityHope, our pastors, & the friendships formed here have been a constant through it all. We genuinely don't know if we would still be in such a strong, healthy, happy marriage after almost 17 years had we not had this church pouring into our lives. We've leaned on so many different pastors as counselors, friends, & sources of wisdom & comfort! We've sought counsel over family members' dealing with addiction & rehab, as well as multiple miscarriages & infertility. We even had a family member take her own life. During these tough times, CityHope & the pastors who counseled us & prayed with us were such an amazing source of strength when we didn't feel very strong. We've since experienced the birth of 4 children, & they are now growing up in this church! It makes us so emotional to think of what this campus means to our family. As we're married to Christ & married to each other, we've also essentially been married to the church. We've not thought of it in those terms until now, but as we look back, we really see the value in that. The doors of the church are always there, they're open for us every week, no matter what else is going on with our family, & we know we can show up to church & someone will be there with a hug.

It's crazy to think how we were part of the launch team for the Mobile campus during that first year of our marriage. The first official service was actually in the old Hollywood theater on our first anniversary! Robby was on the media team, so he would show up at midnight sometimes the night before or 4am on Sunday to set up the stage, the sound, & the lights every single week. I was over the coffee, so I would get there around 7am on Sundays to fill up coffee carafes back in the disgusting kitchen at the theater, surrounded by popcorn machines. It's so funny to remember now! We would even set aromatherapy soap in the bathrooms to try to make it feel fancier! We then had a short stint in the Marriott Hotel, & then we eventually got to help set up in the old Big Lots building! I'm not sure everyone at the Mobile campus knows just how much a new building that's truly OURS means, but as we remember & reflect on the journey throughout the years, it means the world to us. We are so excited to have the space to do more in-house ministry. We now have a kid in every department - our oldest just started in youth (she LOVES it), one is in 56, one is in KidCity, & one is in Newbies. We know the permanent building will offer so much for them & the generations after them. They already love to be up at the church as much as possible, so to have the space to do extracurricular activities, hang out, & have small groups - we can only imagine how much it's going to bring to the culture here in Mobile!"

We are believing with the McWhorters that God is just getting started with the city of Mobile, & that this permanent home will be a launching pad for countless stories of healing, hope, and life transformation for generations to come.

Church Planting

Our church planting vision is to bring gospel-centered, hope-filled communities to cities and neighborhoods that need transformation. It started with Eden Church in Houston, Texas, which was launched to reach the city's diverse population through authentic relationships, Biblical teaching, and practical acts of service. Eden serves as a model for future church plants—places where God's love meets real needs, communities are strengthened, and lives are changed. Our goal is to plant churches that will grow and thrive, becoming powerful catalysts for spiritual and social renewal across the nation and around the world.

Merry Christmas Gulf Coast & Correctional Christmas

For more than 20 years, Merry Christmas Gulf Coast has been our largest and most impactful annual community outreach. Each year, it brings the joy and warmth of Christmas to over 1,000 children, creating lasting holiday memories. The outreach also extends to over 2,000 men in five correctional facilities across Alabama, offering gifts and a message of hope and belonging. Through Merry Christmas Gulf Coast, we share the love of Jesus with those who might otherwise go without it, bringing light, encouragement, and joy during the holiday season.
