

FOLEY SUNDAY 9AM - Words In Due Season

Victorria

What I heard over you the minute I saw you when I walked into the lobby. You have a quiet and gentle spirit. You are extremely inviting. You know, you make people feel comfortable. People come to you for prayer. They come for you for counsel, and you're all for it. You also have a deep, deep well of understanding of who God is. And He loves that about you. He loves everything about you. The way He's designed you is for the Body and it's for the world. We need it. We need what you have. So thank you for being just in love with the Lord and pursuing Him. Continue to let that deeper call to deep because it's going to continue to draw you closer and closer to Him. I feel like too, that you have a teaching anointing on you. I don't know if you teach and if that freaks you out, just say, "Lord, no, no, no." Give it to the Lord and say, "God, if it's You, breathe on it." And when the Lord opens the door, be willing to step into it. Amen?

Debbie

You have a call, The Romans Call of Leadership. It's not your personality. It's not any of that. It's wired into you. God formed you in your mother's womb and He put leadership inside of you, and He's drawing it out as we speak. Right? Look, I know you can sing. I know you can lead worship. Listen, Debbie, this is way bigger than that. I—I'm going to say something a little deep here. And so let's just trust the Lord with it, okay? Racial reconciliation is no longer sexy. It only becomes sexy when it gets in the news. And it—you know what I mean? Sorry to say the word sexy. If that makes you uncomfortable, talk to Pastor Trey. But it's not hyper anymore. And it only gets solved when it's no longer hyper. And so you have a call to leadership and you need to continue to be exactly who you are. Don't change who you are. Don't conform to anything right? Now, look, if you get convicted, listen to the Lord. You know what I'm saying. But you staying where the Lord has asked you to stay, you being where the Lord has asked you to be, it's fixing more things than you realize. And I want to say to you, as a middle aged white man, we need you, we need you, and we love you. Okay? So you keep being who you are. Don't bend for anybody and let that leader out. Amen? God bless you, Debbie.

Maddie, I saw a season in your life that felt almost like a crevice, like something wasn't going really well. Something either happened or—and you're having a hard time building the bridge across. And the Lord has sent a stranger from Texas to tell you that He's building the bridge. Whatever has happened is going to be solved. Stay with what you're doing. Keep your faith strong, like you don't have to go be a marathon runner in faith. Like just continue to be Maddie. Continue to be who you are and those who have risen up against you, whether that be the enemy or people, God is going to show them to be in the wrong. And whatever has happened, your heart's going to be healed and you are going to be so, so strong in whatever area this is. Now, that doesn't mean that God did it. God is frustrated with what has happened. He wasn't a part of whatever happened. He's going to resolve it and you're going to be stronger for it so that you can put your boot heel on the devil's neck. Go get it. Amen?

Julia

What I heard over you is that when the Lord looks upon you, when He looks at you, it's as though He's found a great treasure. And the Lord just wants you to know, you don't have to prove your worth. I just feel like you've been in a season of feeling overlooked and maybe rejected at times. And God wants you to know that He calls you worthy, and because He calls you worthy, you're worthy. You don't have to prove it to anyone. You just show up and bring what you have and give it to those who will receive it, and those who don't, just take it back and move on. You have nothing to prove. Amen? Amen.

Chasity

I feel like the Lord just dropped this. I looked over here and I saw you and the Lord is just shining upon you and I feel like the Lord wants to tell you that you're anointed for healing, like you have healing in your hands. And so if you haven't already done that or if—you are into that, okay, so that means there's an increase coming. So continue to walk in faith. Continue to take risks and just step out. Step out in weird places, step out in the grocery store, step out in places where you can evangelize through the anointing of healing. Does that make sense? Like, do it with your hands, not necessarily with your words and I think you're going to see some really, really cool miracles. Go get it. I want to follow you around. That's awesome. Go get it. God bless.

Suzanne and Brooklyn

This word may be for some others as well. I just feel like y'all have been going through something really tough, extremely tough. But the Lord wants you to know He's right there with you. He is with you. He is leading you and guiding you right through it. And it's going to be—it's going to be okay. But I feel like God wants to speak something over you. And if anybody's in the room and you've been going through a really hard season, I feel like this word is for you, too. So if that's you, I'd like for you to stand and just open your heart to receive what the Lord wants to speak over you. Your help comes from the Lord. He will not allow your foot to slip. He does not slumber or sleep, but He is always watching over you and keeping you. He is your shade on your right hand. He will keep you from all evil. He will keep your life. He will watch over you in your going in and your coming out. Just receive that, that God is working through this and you guys are going to come out on the other side and it's going to be better than you expected. Amen? Amen.

David

David, I felt like the Lord said you have a pastoral call on your life. I think you're comfortable behind the camera. I get it. But the Lord is moving you up. He's put that in you when He made you in the first place. It's like Pastor Wayne said. That destiny was tucked inside of you and God's got it. You don't have to make anything happen, but just allow yourself to be mentored by other pastors. Just get around them and glean and let the Lord have His way. David, You want to do it? Yeah. So you just give God your 'yes' and say, Lord, I give it to you. I give you the timing of it. I give you what it looks like, "Lord just lead me in it." And listen, you're not lacking any good thing, right? Just receive it. Amen? Amen.

Trey and Laren

I feel like the Lord wants to speak something to you, but there's never a word that belongs to one of you, right? That we walk together in this. So the things that you want, God wants. You're not beating the doors of heaven. You're not having to convince Him of things. The things that you want, He wants. Continue to seek, continue to dig, continue to go deep in that. And I feel like the Lord wants to tell you that it's righteous. What you're asking for is righteous. You want fire, you want passion, you want to see God's people on fire for Him. These are righteous things. Continue to desire that. And I think there's going to be a season. There is a building, and I know you've been building for a while, but there's going to be a building season, but eventually you're going to see the fruit of what God has placed in your heart. The thing that you miss is God says He'll give you the desires of your heart. It doesn't mean he gives you the things that are in your heart. It means He places the desires in that space, then He begins to pull them out. And so, He wants what you want. Continue to pray for it. Y'all pray for it together, Ask for the big stuff. Ask for the big stuff and keep going after it. Amen? God bless you guys.
